

Call for Papers

3rd International Workshop on Contracts and Incentives

Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan

September 25-26, 2020

CRC TRR 190 Rationality and Competition, Colloquium on Personnel Economics (COPE), and Contract Theory Workshop (CTW) are jointly organizing the 3rd International Workshop on Contracts and Incentives. The workshop will take place on September 25-26, 2020, at Waseda University in Tokyo.

The aim of the workshop is to bring together researchers of the CRC with researchers in Japan working on similar topics. The workshop will focus on “Contracts and Incentives” (broadly defined) and could include theoretical, empirical, and experimental contributions.

CRC TRR 190 covers the flight expenses of all participants. Accommodation costs will be covered by the Japanese side.

If you are interested in participating, please submit a paper or an extended abstract for possible presentation to Taisuke Imai (taisuke.imai@econ.lmu.de). The deadline for applications is March 13 (Friday). Accepted participants will be informed by the end of March.

Organizers:

Taisuke Imai (LMU Munich)

Takeshi Murooka (Osaka University, OSIPP)